Abstract— Though structure and outlook is almost same among human, their character, knowledge, life style are very different. If four children born for a couple, no two have same life style, financial status, fame or even character. It is witnessed that many heirs of several celebrities were completely unnoticed. They didn't reach fame as their parents did. Sometimes, their life style had been opposite to their parents. A honest man's children have been reported to involve in illegal activities. Sometime, billionaire's children are found to live very pathetic poor life and reverse cases also been seen.

Why this anomalies?. Though heredity and environment are projected as reasons for these, there are important other factors which determines these anomalies. They are "Birth Time" and "First Breath" taken by the baby. The nature and quality of the celestial forces that has been received during the First Breath is the main and important factor. The energy that continuously received by this planet Earth is a combination of energy waves from Sun, Stars and other planets based on their mass, orbiting speed, self-rotating speed, attraction or repulsion they experience. The nature, quality and quantity of this energy on any point on Earth vary from place to place and time to time. If a baby born on a particular longitude and a particular time, its future characteristics, behavior, knowledge and so its life experiences and life style is recorded in its brain by that unique celestial force/energy. The other important factor to have the baby at "best time" to receive celestial energy with all desired and best qualities is "time of ejaculation". At any given time, in a man, there will be sperms with characteristics of past continuous seven generation from the father. The sperm which make the baby decides the trait characteristics and the time and place of birth (First Breath) determines the babies capabilities to explore the best qualities to become financially strong, to have good qualities and to even become Famous.

In short, best TIME-SPACE (place) combination during birth is important and to have that "Time of Ejaculation" is important. In this article, the above mentioned points are discussed in-detail.

Keywords— Celestial forces create Humans: Creation by First Breath: Best time of Ejaculation for best creation: Life style by Longitude and Birth time: Sperm with seven generations: Sperm ejaculation and First Breath.

I. INTRODUCTION

About decillion years before the universe was originated. About 500 crore years before our sun (Star) and about 450 crore years before our earth are originated.

Sufficient distance from a star along with the required / necessary heat/temperature, light, relative speed of rotation of the planet and parent star, the alternation of day and night (to have rest), the atmospheric system/structure, the oxygen in the air, all together had the potential to create life on any planet. Since the above mentioned system existed on our planet Earth, the living organisms have formed /created on it (1).

In the practical world, the following diverse kinds of human beings are found to be created.

Though, human anatomy, brain structure is almost same, life style and status of every individual is very different. Social, financial, intellectual and personal conduct differs significantly from person to person. Poor and Rich as per the parameters mentioned above do exist all over the world irrespective of developed, developing or under developed countries. In developed countries all peoples are not rich and in undeveloped countries, all people are not poor.

Why all the peoples have different life style? What is the reason and motive for such kind of creation? Who created like this? Why such system?

If they are created as such then, what is the reason and motivation for such kind of creation? Who created them with these differences?.

II. WAY OF LIFE OF HUMAN ON EARTH

Please note the following pairs.

The Subject (Popular Persons)	Heirs/Family
Mahatma Gandhi	2 brothers, 4 sons, 7 grandsons.
Thomas Alva Edison	3 brothers, 6 sons.
Albert Einstein	2 brothers, 1 son, 2 grandsons (2).
Rabindranath Tagore	5 sons and daughters 2 grand children.
Dictator Mussolini	1 brother, 4 sons, 2 daughters, 2 grand Children.

None of the heirs of above mentioned celebrities have become equally or more famous compared to their Father or Grandfather. They just lived to their names. They were unable to gain fame same as their father and grandfather. Even if tried, it won't have happen. Why?. In South Africa, Mahatma Gandhi's granddaughter imprisoned for 7 years (June 2021) due to her impeachment (3). Mahatma Gandhi's 4 sons, 7 grand sons could not mark themselves with high glory life or with their significant contribution to human kind.

The heirs of Thomas Alva Edison could not even preserve the patent rights of what Edison invented.

The US President Abraham Lincoln was the son of Carpenter. How the son of a carpenter became president of the US is something we have to think about. The descendants of Lincoln and those from his and later generations were not as famous as he was. And it could not be achieved.

Now the same old question. Were they unable to bring out their talent? or Were they not created to have such glory?.

We can extend our list how many more celebrities in the world falling in this category. The same is true for political leaders, businessmen, the rich, the middle class, the poor, and the impoverished. Their heirs were never equal to their father's actions, intelligence, ingenuity, fame and success. And it is not possible too.

The above facts are as simple as a class room situation in a school. If there are 30 students in a class at a school, the Teacher's teaching is same to all students. But, in reality, we could witness that students score significantly different such as 90%, 80%, 70%, 60% or even 10%.

Why such a system?

People produce children absolutely with no idea about their future. It is not sure even for the highly educated, intellect famous people whether their children will have the talent, knowledge, Subtlety to accomplish what they have achieved. It is only can be realized in later stages in terms of life style, effort, activities, achievement, fame etc.

Even scientists themselves could not do, what about the political leaders, businessmen, the rich, the middle class, the poor and the poorest?. They cannot be sure about the future of their children. The reason is that the subject of expertise for these scientists may be different than the one which is involved in predicting the future. Even scientists who work on simulations and predictions are not in a position to predict the future and make their heirs strong and fortunate in advance. These computational / prediction methods that existed in the past have now disappeared.

Do people appreciate celebrities for outer look such as face and figure or do they appreciate the thoughts, skills, activities and achievements gained by them. About 90% of the cases, there is no chance that the heirs of the celebrities to achieve the same level of fame as them.

III. HOW IS HUMAN CREATED?

In a male's body, lot of sperms produced with characteristics of sperms from earlier 7 continuous generations starting from father. The child is formed by a sperm from one generation among 7 generations and the woman's ovum.

It takes 29 ½ days for the moon to return to its same place. According to this system a woman menstruates once in every 29 ½ days. These days are divided into 1-10, 11-20, 21-30 and embryonic period is 11-20 days of which the 5 days falling between 12-16 are important for the formation embryo.

The Timing of semen ejaculation is very very important. This is very beginning stage of embryo formation. Based in this time the future life style of that man is set. Birth time is determined by the time of semen ejaculation and the connected generation sperm.

The life of the child that is born from this union will be similar to the ancestor related to that encountered sperm. Even the timing of birth also been determined by the sperm (belongs which generation) i.e. the time may be different if sperm with different ancestor characteristics. If a woman's first child is born on the 265th day after conception, the next child will not be born on the 265th day. The baby will be born on a different day. The reason is that the different generation related sperm involved in the very beginning formation.

The traditional bad traits can be gradually changed if the time at which the embryonic initiation starts is better and stronger in terms of celestial force. If the time of conception is very bad and complicated, everything will turn upside down and hereditary traits will prevail our congenital traits. So, birth time is very very important.

The future life style of the baby can be known at very beginning stage of embryo formation sperm ejaculation knowing an advance that the future is in a bad state such as poverty, misery, hardship can help in preventing it by creating the embryo at a better and stronger time.

For a better future life style, the birth should be better. To have a better birth, the Time at which embryo forms should be better.

Hereditary traits

From the time a child is born and develops, its physique, hair structure, style, dress, mannerisms, characteristics, diseases, etc. all correspond to that particular ancestor. These are passed on from ancestor to child through genetic transmission.

Those commands vary when there is a disorder in the genes. Variations occur. Because of this the cellular function varies. These are known as hereditary traits.

Innate traits.

At birth, the energies of the universe, the sun, and the planets are at any longitude, at any level, at any quality, the energies reach the brain in the first breath and its energy functions are innate.

First breath.

Another factor, indeed very important factor is “first breath” that the child experience and inhale.

While the physical appearance, characteristics, traits are based on gene lineage, the behavior is based on the circumstances of the place resided in, the habits and routine are based on the occupation or the job, the activities are based on our friends, our acquaintance with good and bad people, the economic imbalances, advances and regressions in job and business, the pleasures, the gains and losses in the family, the spouse and the children, the relatives, the friends and foes, affluent life, getting rich, being poor, becoming popular are based on the first breath taken at the time of creation.

Also, time of first breath at birth determines occupation, work based on the combination of friends, good and bad Pleasures, Losses in the family, spouses, personal relationships, friendships, hostilities, working abroad, credit, compensation, affluent life, getting rich, getting poor, becoming popular etc.

Lifestyle is the occurrence of life in combination with the above types of systems. In this, the lifestyle of each human being is set differently based on the first breath.

First Breath-First Sight

A person sees a woman for the first time. Her image is imprinted in his brain. This is at first sight. Another day he sees the same woman. The image of the woman is not recorded in the brain again. The reason is that at first glance the image of the woman was already recorded in the brain.

No matter how many times you think of that woman and how many years later you think of her, the image at the first glance of that woman recorded in the brain will remain as a specter. The brain does not store the same image again because it is an already recorded image. It is like how you don't have to stand and sit again and again in a chair when you are already seated in the chair.

The brain is a huge store house. Also because of its high processing speed, you can think and recall the image when you need it. We can't speak with the specter that occurs when thinking again. Neither can we feel the touch. We can imagine and bring the image of Specter before our eyes until we live.

Specter and imagination are entirely different. Imagination is the ability to create mental pictures of new ideas. Specter is recalling the occurrence as already happened.

Similarly, the celestial energies received in the first breath reach the brain and are recorded as energy in suitable form. The brain does not store the celestial energies again as they are already recorded.

For example, we record a song on compact disc (1982) and enjoy listening to it. We can't record another song on the same CD again. The same is true for the energy received in the first breath. The celestial energies recorded in the brain cannot be altered, destroyed up to LAST breath. This effect of the recorded energy can be known only from future life of human. Celestial Forces.

Throughout the universe, stars, planets, asteroids, satellites, and dust clouds constantly revolve around themselves and orbit at astounding speeds. They keep dancing and vibrating without any rest.

The following forces caused by their running at breakneck speed without rest and these powers/Forces are create the Humans and determine the different type of Human life style on the Earth (4).

1. Gravitational Force and waves from stars, Sun and Planets.
2. Planetary vibration waves.
3. Electromagnetic waves.

They reach the Earth and the humans every second as they travel in different natures and properties. These energies are essential for formation and development of embryo and survival. Without gravity no Earth, no Solar System, no Milky way, no Universe. The quality, characteristics, and properties of the above energies at a specific degree longitude when they reach the earth is different at the next degree longitude. The above energies vary with each second due to the rotational and revolution speed of the earth and vary in many degrees and reach the humans with different characteristics.

The vibrations, electromagnetic waves, gravitational waves, radiation, light waves, etc. that come from the Sun and the Planets in the particular longitude mix with the other celestial energies at the place of their origin and those on their way before reaching the Earth and the humans.

The brain contains the details of how every human being behaves and functions in his life. His behavior and actions can be clearly seen when viewed well in terms of the nature of the energies received during creation (First Breath)

How a man get the celestial Force/Energy?

A Petrol tank can deliver 1000 lr petrol if it was stored already by 1000 lr petrol.

We can receive 10 ton cement from a godown if it was stored already by same amount of cement in the godown.

If 500 passengers come out from a train it must certainly be occupied already same no of passengers previously.

Similarly one man emit his character, behavior, activities etc. in his life, which same kind of Energy, Character etc. that man already grasped i.e., that kind of celestial Forces at the time of First Breath as per the longitude (Place-Space) with TIME.

Except that, one cannot emit other kind of character, behavior, activities, etc., in his life.

In the Universe anything cannot form individually. One thing created must be depend on other thing.

Celestial Force is very very necessary to activate the Human Life Style.

Impact of Celestial forces:

The energies of the celestial forces are very different at each longitude (Place) and at every second (Time). Based on the time and place, these energies can create the child with following feature.

Peak capabilities

Excellent capabilities

Very special capabilities

Special capabilities

Very strong capabilities

Strong capabilities

Normal basic capabilities

Impaired or reduced normal capabilities

Very complex capabilities

Complex capabilities

In the first breath of these every man acquires different character, qualities, and energies. Based on this, every human beings life style is set differently. If man is born at the best, strongest valuable time (First breath) his life style will be better.

If man is born at a complicated time (First breath) it will be like the life of Hitler, Musolini, Idi Amin etc. If the First breath is taken at the most ordinary time, then the life style is at the lowest level in the economic, family activities etc.

Be it grandparents, mother, father, brothers, sisters, sons, daughters, grand children, the time at which the embryo formed and delivered are different for each of them. Hence their life style varies.

Vehicles are manufactured in factories. Its quality, strength, capacity, etc. are determined when it is made (many mechanical features are considered to predict its future). A 100 CC vehicle cannot run like a 1000 CC vehicle. Similarly, man's capabilities are determined by the way of life created by time, space (place) through unique celestial force(s) corresponding to that time and space. The structure of one second does not exist in the next second or in another second.

Though the same type embryo formed, grown and delivered, the future life style characteristics of every child is entirely different such as Education, Profession, Business, etc.

Also, there are differences in social features such as attachment of husband/wife/ Heirs, Without heirs, Couple diverse, Friendship etc.

The above mentioned differences may extend to economical status by which Profit and Loss may be experienced which in turn leads to Rich life, Poor life or even life at Foreign land.

In addition to the above and do not limited to, many combinations of characteristics lead someone to be a Celebrity.

IV. ENERGIES – POWER – FORCE

All objects in the Universe are constantly vibrating. Always they are in motion without any rest. It is a form of energy. Energies travel as vibrational waves. Vibrations have the ability to carry energy from one place to another. The vibrations are made up of very fine particles. Every object has particle nature. Even the vibrations have particle nature.

Gravitational waves, a type of small waves, propagate in space just like ripples on the surface of a pond.

The sun, planets and the moon – all have their own vibrations. The vibrations of the sun and the planets, even though present in lesser quantity with subtle vibrations, affect our earth and humans.

For example, Jupiter rotate itself at 12.6 km/s at an astronomical speed of 13.07 km/s. Mercury orbits at an astronomical speed of 47.36 km/s, and the Sun at an astounding speed of 220 km/s. So do the other planets. When they rotate and run at such an astounding speed, the excessive force and vibration they produce reaches the earth and humans (5) and even affects the fetus formed (6).

When more than one object is running they produce gravitational waves at the speed of light, it then forcibly squeezes and drags those coming in its way.

Among the planets in the solar system, the energy particles of the planets, magnetic particles and plasma particles also exist. When the energies of the sun and planets etc., reach the human brain the humans gets influenced. The process by which it unfolds into subtlest as well as material form is human life (7).

When the above vibrations reach man its energies correspond to the character, quality, and nature of the place/object from where it is generated.

The energies obtained by the vibrations of the sun and the planets and its influence depend on the angle at which it is formed. The vibrations of the planets angles cause the forces derived from it to accelerate, reduce, magnify, exaggerate, or regress human actions, their functions and effects. The energies obtained from these vibrations produce definite and specific effects in humans. The energy coming from the sun to the earth produce force which depends on the energies of the Sun's planets, the rotating space (the zodiac and the longitude) and other combinations can cause multiple changes. Planets have vibrations based on the forces of gravity and electromagnetism. The life, origin, and dwelling place as we know are determined by the vibrations of the sun planets.

Just as hereditary traits, characteristics, and processes of human DNA are well programmed, so do the processes and actions of the universe and the galaxy in the solar system. The same processes and actions are happening to humans on earth. When such energies reach man, it reaches with different characteristics for every zodiac sign as well as every degree and every second of longitude and drives man's actions. The time, the space and the angular locations, orbiting speed and rotation speed of Sun, Moon and planets remain the cause for this.

We cannot see the celestial forces except sunlight that create man. Its actions and functions can be seen in the development of human life. It is a planned, predetermined function and process of the celestial forces. There must be occasion for trying. Must have the ability to use the opportunity. Must have diligence, intellect, ingenuity and subtlety to use talent. So, the conclusion is that the creation is based on TIME + PLACE (SPACE) + CELESTIAL FORCE.

The activities that happen to man by the forces of the celestial body take place in a timely manner as planned, wherever the man is on Earth, in alleys, in caves, under water, in hiding, or in a dark room. Man has not been able to stop, disperse, divert, escape from it, or make changes. Neither could any other force.

At birth, we receive the energies of the sun and the planets etc. through vibrations. The properties and characteristics of the energies derived from each planet are different and diverse. These energies rule and run a man's life. They determine, in each period of his life, as to how to live and force him to live in a predetermined manner on the basis of his creation. The structure of creation is a reflection of the energies of the planets and the sun etc. The man must live only according to this commandment.

V. TIME –SPACE (PLACE)

During the 24 hours that Earth orbits itself, we encounter 12 zodiacal areas, the Sun, the Moon, the planets, and their energies such as planetary vibrations, electromagnetic vibrations, and radiation etc. We see the whole universe in one place. It takes 4 minutes to cross the one degree longitude line. The Earth takes about two hours to cross a zodiac sign.

A baby is born in Chennai on 31.08.2021 at 08.30 am while a baby is born in Singapore at the same time. We see from Moon to Earth i.e. Chennai and Singapore, the both babies born at the same time on the Earth. Although both babies were born at the same time (time difference between Chennai (80.3° E) and Singapore (103.9° E) (Longitude is one hour 34 minutes) the time difference should be taken into account on the Earth as the Chennai baby was born at 8.30 am and the Singapore baby was born at 10.04 am.

The Sun, Moon, Planets are orbiting with breakneck speed in different angles from Earth including Chennai and Singapore as both children were born at different longitudes. Hence the character, quality, activities etc. of the Sun, Moon, Planetary Vibration waves, Gravitational Force, Electromagnetic waves, etc. reach the children differently. Hence the innate traits vary even though the same planet (Earth).

In the Universe, nothing exist all independent and always depend on other things in every sense. Nature of dependence and/or the degree of dependence also being designed/controlled by celestial forces which as pre-deposited during creation. So it can be concluded that the Celestial Force is essential and inevitable feature that activates the human life as it has been designed already.

They may be rich or poor, loose, gain, stronger or weaker, wise or foolish, brighter or dull. All these are determined by the forces of the Celestial bodies at the TIME OF FIRST BREATH of the person, which is the representation of every ones LIFE STYLE.

VI. COMPLEX/COMPLICATED CREATION

The sex of humans is determined by chromosomes. The chromosomes that determine anatomy are XY in males and XX in females.

Average man – XY

Abnormal man – XYY

XYY embryo form at complicated times and are born at complicated times. They will be involved in extremism, detrimental decision making and even in anti-social activities in their life. Their thoughts, speeches, vision, habits and actions will be negative. Some examples for abnormal people: Napoleon, tyrants like Hitler, Mussolini and Idi Amin.

VII. EXCELLENT CREATION

When a person buys clothes, vehicles, house, home appliances, he thinks many times and before choosing and buying the goods. When creating their heirs every husband and wife wants and expects the heir to live better in the future, to make great progress, and to have better economic status. But is that happening? It only happens to a few. It does not happen as expected to many. People are created as diverse human beings in the process of creation.

If the embryo forms and the child is born at a time when the best, strongest, and most energetic of the celestial energies are present, the child will be intelligent, smart, knowledgeable subtle, without any disease, long life, and rich.

VIII. DISCUSSION

About 300 crore years, Bacteria to present Human evolution is processed by which the physical characteristics of types of creatures change every time, new types of creatures develop and others disappear.

The above task only can engage the gene and evolution, but Gene and Evolution cannot determine the life style of every person. If so, which power/force determines the Human life style differently?. Who determine the Human destiny?

Ten human beings can be created with physical strength and energies of a single human being. A single human being can be created with the physical strength of ten human beings. Similarly, the intelligence, ingenuity and management skills of 10 human beings can be created in a single human being with the greatest energy. This can be done when the time of creation is very very strong and special. Thereby we can get that higher energy.

Though, as we simply know, man and woman is involved in creation of a baby. Further, we also know one sperm unite with ovum to fertilize it and thereby make a baby. At any given time, among ejaculated sperm, sperms with characteristics belong to people of 7 earlier generations from a man's father. The life of the baby is decided by the "time of ejaculation" which decides the generation sperm that will unite with the ovum. The Human body structure, diseases, character etc. passed from ancestor to child through genetic transmission.

At birth man receives his first breath of air and the energies of the celestial body that reaches the earth at that longitude.

They reach his brain and recorded which cannot be altered or destroyed. His innate temperament is based on the child's qualities and characteristics of those energies. The special and the powerful forces in celestial bodies are capable of changing the properties and characteristics of a gene.

If the celestial force is faulty (perturbed to be detrimental) at the time of sperm-ovum fusion, it produces the baby, later the person to emit unfavorable behavior, faulty body structure etc., like a copier delivers "Ric man" instead of "Rich man" under electrical-voltage problem.

A mother cannot give order to growing child in her womb for creation of every part of body. Husband and wife are only helping to meet their sperm and ovum in her fallopian tube. Mother and father (man power) cannot determine the future lifestyle of every born baby. The formation and growth of embryo and then delivery are happen fetus automatically in every woman after fertilization.

If so,

Who create the real child in woman body?

Which is that power/force?

Where is the power/force?

Who direct that power/force?

Who determine the Humans life style differently on the earth?

So, in human creation, Time of sperm ejaculation, Time of First Breath, the Celestial force that has been recorded in the brain determines every single feature in the Life.

The CREATION is in the control of the TIME + PLACE (SPACE) + ENERGY LEVEL OF THE CELESTIAL FORCES.

IX. CONCLUSION

The TIME is very important factor in the Life Style of every person but HIDDEN. The quality of the CELESTIAL FORCES and PLACE are hidden in the TIME. Six different Life Styles are happen to six heirs of the same couple.

1. By calculating the time (birth) at which the energies of the celestial forces are strong and excellent,
2. By knowing the birth and gene characteristics of the couple involved, the ejaculation of sperm can be done at a best time to facilitate embryo formation for the best and strongest birth time.

Life is BETTER when the creating is better and stronger. This cannot be hindered by Physical, Disability, Poverty, Illiteracy, Circumstances, Caste, Religion, Race and Ethnicity.
